A Lifetime of Music

MEMO: To All Bryston Customers SUBJECT: Bryston Model T Signature Speakers

September 2015

Hi James;

I can't believe it's been almost two years since I got my Model T Signatures, as they continue to impress me every time I listen to them.

Everything I said before still holds true with the added observation that they sound so real, they definitely give me the “you are there ” feeling. I constantly find myself exclaiming, “Man, that sounds like live music!!!.”

An excellent example of this is Snarky Puppy – you may not be familiar with their music, but they are a large jazz group who record live in the studio with no overdubs before a small audience. Fantastic arrangements and the T's bring all the dynamics of their recordings to life. You can check out their videos on Youtube.

A while back I inquired about outriggers for the external passive crossovers on the T's and you said there were no plans for anything like this. I wanted to mechanically isolate the crossovers the same way the T's were, so I tapped four holes in the bases of the crossover cases and threaded in the feet that came with the T's. I've attached a picture of this. I think it looks pretty good and matches nicely with the outrigger feet.

The BDP-1 Digital Player that I got back in Aug. 2011 is a fantastic piece and I've been very happy with it. When the BDP-2 came out, the word was that it didn't offer any difference in sound quality over the BDP-1, so I didn't feel the need to upgrade. However, now that you've added a new Bryston-designed soundcard to the BDP-2, I think it's time to consider an upgrade. Not only the new soundcard, but I'd like to try the internal SSD capability of the BDP-2 as well.

Thanks, Dan
