

Do You Really Need A BRYSTON BUC-1?

Do you want to use a Mac or PC as an audiophile music source?

No

Yes

Great! You're going to need a DAC plus a very high quality sound card or a USB audio interface. Which will you use?

USB I have a laptop, or I'm worried that EMI interference inside my computer will disrupt my sound card's performance anyways

Does your DAC have a USB input?

No

Yes

Yes! Really?
(I'm Impressed)

No

- Does the input have it's own highly regulated, super low noise linear PSU?
- Are the outputs galvanically isolated?
- Does the USB input have very low phase noise on board clocks to mitigate jitter?

Is your DAC's USB input capable of 192kHz 24bit Asynchronous audio?

Yes

No

NO It sounds like you can live happily without one.

YES! You will totally love the capability and sound quality the Bryston BUC-1 lends your computer based music.
